Stevenson Pounces On GOP's 'Crusade'

Statement To VFW Calls On Americans To Use Intelligence In Meeting Problems

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS)—Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai Stevenson lashed out again Sunday at his GOP adversary, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, and called on Americans to meet "the terrible crisis of our time" with strength and "cool, unfettered intelligence."

Stevenson, increasingly aggressive, jabbed at Eisenhower's military background, at his "crusade" for the White House and at those members of the Republican party who do not see eye-to-eye with the general on foreign policy.

The Illinois governor's attack was made in statements to be read Monday to the Veterans of Foreign Wars national meeting in Los Angeles and to the Ohio State Democratic convention in Columbus.

In his statement to Ohio Democrats Stevenson said:

"Our opponents talk about waging a crusade, as if their object was to smash and destroy the opposition. That is not my object. I do not want to exterminate the Republican party. I just mean to lick it in November with your help."

Expressing his own ideas on foreign policy in his VFW message, Stevenson declared:

"Today we exist in crisis in every dimension of that fateful, abused word. Survival as a culture, survival as a free way of life, even national survival is threatened. If we are to endure, we must continue to build the economic, moral and military strength of the free world."

"Success does not lie in the creation of dream worlds in which we can strut for a vain hour. It lies in coming to terms with the world we have—and thereby shaping its evolution toward the ends which Americans for nearly two centuries have found good."

Stevenson's statement added:

But it was in his plainly partisan message to the Ohio Democrats that Stevenson unlimbered his heaviest campaign artillery.

"The American people," he said, "must decide whether they want to entrust a foreign policy based on co-operation among free nations to the party which has created and cherished that policy—or to a party which has opposed that policy and is today split down the center in a contortion of bitter division about it."

"The American people must decide whether they want to entrust a domestic policy based on social advance and human welfare to the party which took us out of the worst depression into the greatest and most widely shared prosperity of our history—or to the party which looks back with nostalgia to the brief, lop-sided boom of the twenties."

Tokyo Sources Claim Russians Hit U.S. Plane

TOKYO (Monday)—Americans in Tokyo today heard an unconfirmed report that a United States weather observation plane with five crewmen aboard was shot down Saturday off the coast of Siberia by a Russian fighter.

There was no confirmation of the report by any official U. S. or United Nations source, but the rumor was current in some Tokyo circles and was heard in Pusan, provincial capital of the Republic of Korea.

The citizens organization will operate with its own personnel as a "separate and special agency" in the campaign. Its name will be changed to Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon, to include the GOP vice presidential candidate.

New Church Holds Its First Services Here

A new denomination in Lincoln's growing family of churches, The United Missionary Church, was led in religious worship by Rev. Walter L. Stump at 70th and Ballard for the first time Sunday.

A 14-member Havelock congregation met at the morning services and Sunday School to hear their new minister, recently graduated from Bethel College in Michigawka, Ind.

Rev. Stump with his wife, Evelyn Jean, will move to their new residence at 6408 Morrill next week. They have been living with Rev. Charles Gray, district superintendent of the Nebraska Conference of the denomination at 633 No. 26th.

Present church services are held at a building rented from the Christian Missionary Alliance, but Rev. Stump expects a permanent church to be under construction somewhere in northeast Lincoln by fall. As yet, no definite church site has been selected.

Rev. Stump, now serving as a "probationer," will be eligible for ordination in three years. He was graduated from the Indiana college with a AB degree in biblical literature.

Sunday services will be held at 10:50 a.m., preceded by Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. Evening evangelical services at 7:30 p.m. follow junior services at 7 p.m.

The classes will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building library on the Lincoln Naval Air Station.

Instruction of the classes sponsored by the three organizations will be given by registered nurses at no cost. The Naval Air Station will provide facilities for the classes.

Can Rule Iran As He Wishes For Period Of Six Months

Twin Sister Of Shah And Three Children Leave Country But Destination Not Known

TEHERAN, Iran (AP)—Iran's lawmakers in the Majlis gave final approval Sunday to Nationalist Premier Mohammad Mossadegh's demand for unprecedented powers to rule the country as he sees fit for six months.

At the same time, they started action to confiscate the rich properties of Ahmed Qavam, who has disappeared since wild, nationwide rioting July 21 forced him to resign the premiership and brought Mossadegh back to power.

It was announced, too, that Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi's twin sister, Princess Ashraf, and her three children left Teheran by plane Sunday night for an "extended visit abroad." Her destination was not revealed.

It also was reported that other members of the royal family plan to leave soon for Europe.

In a standing vote on the third and final reading of the bill giving Mossadegh a blank check to rule nearly every phase of Iranian life by decree, all but one or two of the 63 deputies rose to signify their approval.

In the debate leading up to the final vote, fiery Nationalist deputies continued already loudly-voiced demands that Iran kick out American military and technical aid missions.

The bill goes next to the Senate, which is expected to give it the same overwhelming support it received in upper house preliminary voting Saturday.

Mossadegh then will have power to institute at will new so-called taxes, economic and financial reforms, government banking controls, a possible military cut-down and work projects.

All are designed, he said, to steer the country away from the brink of bankruptcy and disaster.

At the end of the six-month period according to the terms of the bill, Mossadegh can ask the Majlis to adopt as law any of the actions he feels have accomplished their purpose.

G. F. Williams, Labor Leader, Dies At Age 65

George F. Williams, prominent local and state labor leader, died at a local hospital early Monday morning. He was 65. He lived at 2813 Arlington.

Mr. Williams was secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Federation of Labor, and had served as vice president of that state organization.

He was a long-time pressman with the Journal-Star printing company, and headed the Lincoln pressman's union.

In addition to other labor union posts, Mr. Williams had served as president of the Labor Temple Building Association and president of the Lincoln Central Labor Union.

He had been active in United States war bond drives during World War II.

A native of Nebraska, Mr. Williams came to Lincoln from Columbus to work for the Lincoln Free Press. He became a pressman for The Lincoln Star in 1919.

Mr. Williams had been in the hospital since suffering two strokes a week ago. He had been seriously ill since then.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter and two brothers.

Red Square Copied

TOKYO (INS)—Communist China will soon have its equivalent of Moscow's famed Red Square.

The Peiping radio has reported that ground has been broken for a 110-foot high granite cenotaph honoring China's "revolutionary martyrs of the past century." The huge monument will rise on Tien An Men (Gate of Heaven) Square where Red China holds its Communist "red letter" day celebrations.

Heaviest rainfall was recorded in the western section of Nebraska. North Platte received 1.54 inches and Burwell 1.48 in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Elsewhere in the state precipitation figures show Omaha .91, Norfolk .50, Valentine .72 and Grand Island .24.

Week To Bring Vote Counting In Four States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four states hold primaries this week—Michigan, Missouri and Kansas Tuesday and Tennessee on Thursday.

All four will nominate for governor and House seats and all except Kansas for U. S. Senator.

Perhaps the chief interest focuses on Democratic senatorial races in Missouri, where President Truman is backing Attorney J. E. Buck Taylor against his own former associate, W. Stuart Symington, and in Tennessee, where Rep. Albert Gore is challenging Sen. Kenneth McKellar's bid for a seventh Senate term. Gore is 44, McKellar 83.

For the first time in recent history of the institution, covering at least 25 years, hot meals are available to all patients.

It has been a long slow struggle by the board of control and institution heads with careful planning followed little by little with improvements toward the long-term objective climaxed by completion of the Lincoln State kitchen.

Saucers 'Illusions, Imagination' Lincoln People Tell Reporter

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Reports of flying saucers are regarded as "illusions" or as figments of the imagination by more than half of 25 persons interviewed by The Lincoln Star.

But eight of the persons believed the saucers were actual objects—experimental machines developed by the air force for instance.

An Air Force captain in administration and intelligence, Stanley Newman of Mitchell Field, N. Y., didn't think much of saucer reports.

Ninety per cent of the reports are figments of the imagination," he said. But the captain said the Air Force should "try everything to make certain everything they say about the saucers is right."

An unidentified young man who said he also was in Air Force Intelligence thinks Capt. Thomas E. Mantell, Kentuckian who died chasing a saucer, "blacked out because of lack of oxygen" and crashed.

J. R. Walker, contractor from Beatrice, thinks flying saucers are "perhaps a reflection from the sun or ocean." They may be from wind and heat. "You see a lot of things you can't judge," he said.

Ten-year-old Lucille Peet, 1805 No. 24th thinks the saucers "could be something the Russians sent over" but she is not worried about it.

And the middle-aged man could not say what saucers were because he had not read a newspaper for 45 days.

Lincoln A's Climb Out Of WL Cellar

Lincoln's Athletics, blazing with determination, emerged from the Western League cellar Sunday night on the strength of Mike Kume's 6-0 thumping of Pueblo and Des Moines' split with Colorado Springs.

Kume's shutout completed Lincoln's four-game sweep of the Dodger series and sent Pueblo out of town without scoring a run in 34 consecutive innings.

Lincoln rests in seventh place, a scant two percentage points ahead of Des Moines, which defeated the Sky Sox, 4-3 in the opener and dropped the nightcap, 4-2. Both the A's and the Bruins still trail League-leading Colorado Springs by 22 games.

For complete details of Lincoln's fourth consecutive shut-out and escape from the cellar, see Page 7.

Sanitation Stressed

Dieticians under the direction of Mrs. Anna Dunn see that wholesome, balanced meals are prepared and served under sanitary conditions in pleasant surroundings, with savings in costs due to elimination of waste in food and manpower.

This sounds like a housewife's dream—and is.

Nearly six years ago when it was announced that Mrs. Harold Prince of Grand Island would be named a member of the board of control, she started visiting state institutions in preparation for taking over her new duties.

She was appalled at the food and food service and determined to do something about it. She learned that inadequate financing over a period of years including two world wars and a depression was largely responsible.

From her first day as a board member she has never wavered in urging and getting support from her fellow members to improve food service in the 18 institutions they supervise. A big assist came from the legislature in appropriating building funds which made necessary building and remodeling.

Last Step

Mrs. Prince, now in the final year of her six-year term and serving as chairman, has thrived at completion of the last step of the program which has been slowly progressing for nearly six years: the opening of a new central kitchen and bakery at Lincoln State Hospital.

Dr. F. L. Spradling, superintendent, who as a boy, when his father was a doctor at the institution, and as man, both a staff psychiatrist and superintendent, cannot remember when the old kitchen was constructed. Records have been destroyed over the years, but he estimates it was at least 40 years old.

It is known that it was designed to serve a capacity of less than 1,000 persons, while in recent months more than 1,800 meals have been prepared and served three times daily. The new kitchen planned for possible growth is designed to permit preparing 3,000 meals at a time if necessary.

The new kitchen required remodeling of the old building and an addition. With new equipment it cost about $350,000. From it, 12 dining rooms in other buildings on the institution grounds can be given hot or cold food, ready to serve in 10 minutes after it leaves the kitchen.

Prior service required one and a half hours with the result that hot foods were cold and cold foods hot by the time they reached the patient.

Personnel Cut

Dieticians under the direction of Mrs. Anna Dunn see that wholesome, balanced meals are prepared and served in an appetizing fashion. Sanitation has been stressed in all institutions and particularly in the hospital where patient help has been replaced by trained workers.

'Invasion' Of West Berlin By Red Youths Fizzles

BERLIN (INS)—Club-wielding police beat back an attempted "invasion" of West Berlin Sunday by Communist youths who hurled bricks and rocks in a demonstration for "peace."

More than four hundred of the Reds tried to force their way from East Berlin into the sealed-off British sector of the city to attend a planned "mass meeting" others tried to sneak across the borderline in small groups and on elevated trains connecting the two zones.

Many Stay Home

Vigilant West German police prevented the big meeting from materializing—and four lesser rallies, scheduled on the Communist side of the zonal border, flopped when East Berlin citizens failed to turn out.

Truman Sidetracks Politics To Enjoy Day With Family

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—President Truman put politics completely aside Sunday to talk with his daughter, Margaret, in Austria, and look over the family farm in Jackson County where he hopes to see an education center erected.

The President and Mrs. Truman both talked, by phone with Margaret, who was in Salzburg for the music festival with Mrs. Drucie Snyder Horton, daughter of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

Margaret and Mrs. Horton are the guests of Stanley Woodward, ambassador to Canada, and Mrs. Woodward.

Afterwards, the President drove to Grandview where he visited with his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman, before going on to the nearby family farm to see his brother, J. Vivian Truman and his family.

Mrs. Truman may remain behind since her mother, Mrs. David Wallace, who will be 90 Monday, is still seriously ill.

Norwegians Ignore Heavy Rain To Honor Their King, Now 80

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Norway's King Haakon celebrated his 80th birthday today and neither he nor thousands of his cheering subjects let a heavy rain interfere.

The aged monarch, living symbol of Norway's resistance to German occupation in World War II, rode slowly through the streets of his ancient capital in an open car during the downpour.

At the spanking new city hall, the King—oldest reigning monarch in Europe—stood on an open balcony overlooking a square filled with 50,000 persons. King Haakon while Mayor Brynjulf Bull told him of the great love his people bore him.

The King, in a speech broadcast all over Norway, thanked his people for the demonstration of

People Are 'Pretty Swell,' Retiring Bus Driver Avers

After 27 years of driving buses and street cars in Lincoln, Joe Sjoquist of 2515 D still holds the opinion that people are "pretty swell."

"I got along o.k. with people. They were very co-operative," he said.

And Sjoquist says that customers today aren't anymore "demanding" as far as service goes than they were when he first started as a street car conductor in 1925.

He switched to driving buses about eight years later.

Sjoquist, who will be 67 in September, finished his service with City Lines last week. He has no particular plans for the future.

Stevenson Relative Was NU Teacher

A first cousin of Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson taught political science at the University of Nebraska in 1926-27, Prof. John P. Senning recalls.

She was Miss Marietta Stevenson, whose father and Adlai Stevenson's father were brothers. She is now head of the University of Illinois' public welfare school.

And Stevenson's mother spent several weeks visiting relatives in a sod shanty and tent on an Albion homestead in 1884 when she was 16, according to International News Service.

Mrs. Stevenson had come to Albion with her family in a covered wagon to visit two aunts, Alice and Fannie Fell, daughters of Abraham Lincoln's adviser Jesse Fell.

Marines From Lincoln Above Mental Average

"Enlisting Marines from Lincoln are well above the average mentally compared with those we're getting throughout the country."

Col. C. J. O'Donnell, commanding officer of Marine's Mid-

West recruiting area with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., made this statement while on an inspection tour of the Lincoln recruiting office this weekend. Men from this area, he told The Col. O'Donnell Star, generally place in class two or three on Marine mental examinations.

The Marine Corps is also happy, he said, that it is now getting better than 60 per cent re-enlistment over the nation. The corps will reach its maximum strength of 250,000 officers and men in 1954.

A Lincoln native and graduate of the University of Nebraska, Lt. Col. Lymond Spurlock, now serves as Col. O'Donnell's executive officer. Lt. Col. Spurlock has just returned from a tour of Mediterranean duty.

The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, is expected to arrive in time for a state banquet in the King's honor being given by the Norwegian government Monday.

M. Sgt. E. T. Allison, non-commissioned officer in charge of the local Marine recruiting station, served with him in China and in the Marianas, making his present tour of duty his third with Col. O'Donnell.

Wagener To Lecture At Northwestern U Attorney's Course

County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener will be one of 16 lecturers at the seventh annual Short Course for Prosecuting Attorneys at the Northwestern University School of Law, Aug. 4 through 9.

Wagener and Deputy County Attorney Elmer Scheele will attend the course. Other lecturers at the sessions will include Rush C. Clarke, former assistant attorney general of Nebraska.

Merle M. Hale, vice president of the company, said WSB approval is expected because the raise "is even less than other phone company settlements over the counter," are averaging. He said they are averaging a raise of 11 cents an hour.

Wagener will discuss "Prosecution Pitfalls in Homicide Cases" citing Lancaster County cases as examples.

Cedars 'Bank' Looted

An unknown amount of change was taken from a Cedars Home paper bank at Consumers Coal Company, 2001 O Saturday night after glass in the rear door of the building had been broken to gain entrance.

The office was thoroughly ransacked and papers from the unlocked safe were thrown about the office floor. A furnace shaker handle left at the rear of the building had been used to break the glass.

"I got along o.k. with people. They were very co-operative," he said.

The recommended spray is one and one-half pounds of DDT per acre.

Louis, Trenton Men Are 'Honorary Sioux'

By JOHN SWANSON
(Star Staff Writer)

TRENTON, Neb.—The Sioux Indian stars of the annual Pow Wow which closed here Sunday night are returning to their reservation with the rolls of their tribe somewhat swollen.

The Indians bestowed an honorary membership upon former heavyweight champion Joe Louis as a highlight of their tribal dances here. With the bright, feathered warbonnet of the Sioux resting ceremoniously upon his head, the famed boxer was given the official name "Wambee Ohitika"—Brave Eagle.

In addition several local business men came in for honorary membership in the tribe Sunday night in ceremonies which interspersed the performance of their ancient musical and dancing rituals.

Sponsored by the American Legion Post No. 327 in Trenton, the annual Pow Wow commemorates

All events of the Pow Wow were staged in American Legion Park, an area purchased and furnished entirely by proceeds from previous Pow Wows.

Commander Baker was among the Trentonites who received an honorary Sioux membership. Following the Pow Wow Louis left for Washington, D. C., for more personal appearances.

The bleachers in the park, which were destroyed by fire last week, were hastily replaced, and Sunday night seated more than 3,000 persons, while more than 7,000 were packed into other portions of the small park.

Pow Wow officials said Sunday that this year's event shattered all previous records in the matter of attendance.

About three dozen planes bearing Nebraska Flying Farmers converged on Trenton Saturday to further swell Pow Wow attendance. They were led by Earl Hawks of Bruning, national head of the Flying Farmers.

Jefferson County Fair Will Honor Early Settlers

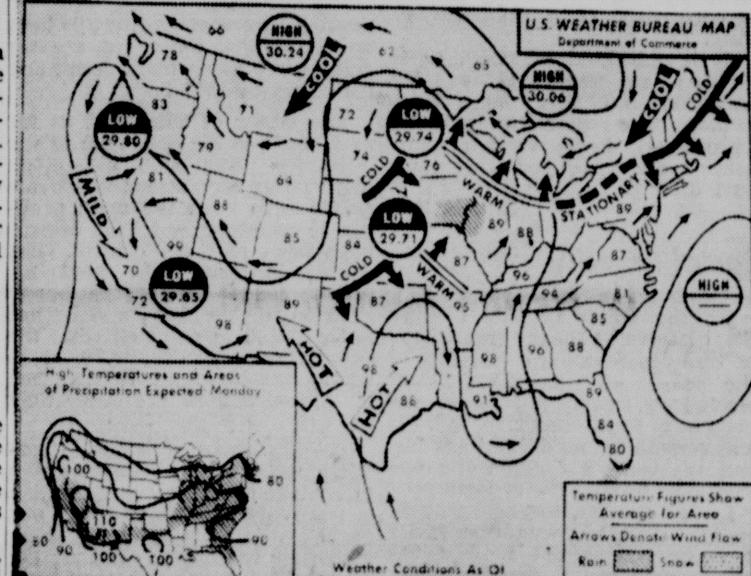

FAIRBURY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Jefferson County's old settlers will come in for special honors and a day of their own Thursday as the third day of the county fair is devoted to them.

All persons who have lived in the county for 50 years or more are registering here to qualify themselves as old settlers and to be able to ride in the parade.

They will ride in cars at the head of the parade and will later be able to review the parade from the cars. They will also be honored at an afternoon grandstand show at the fair grounds. Rev. A. W. Johnson of Fairbury is in charge of arrangements for a program of individual recognition for the old timers.

In addition to many floats the annual parade will include bands and saddle clubs. The fair itself, is expected to surpass anything previously presented in spite of the enforced absence of any hog exhibits. Fair officials promised that every other department will have large and complete exhibits.

The raises were described as an "adjustment for the cost of living." Some 57 employees are involved in the increases.

SCATTERED SHOWERS FORECAST—Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast Monday for the Central Lakes region, south Atlantic states, the southern Plains states and the southern Rockies. Temperature changes will be slight throughout the nation. Dry, up-slope winds in western Oregon and western Washington will constitute a forest fire hazard in that section of the nation. MacArthur's Swan Song

It is asking a lot—possibly too much—to take Gen. Douglas MacArthur's words at full face value. It is not merely a question of Gen. MacArthur's earnest heart-felt desires.

Publicly, near week's end, he announced that he would have no part in the impending presidential campaign. But he is already a part of the 1952 campaign—keynoter for the convention, obviously tired and weary when he put in an appearance at the convention hall, a disappointment to an expectant audience. His keynote address was tailored to fit in with the Republican campaign. It will be printed in the party's campaign book, along with other documents intended to be helpful in achieving a November victory. Even in a larger sense MacArthur's keynote address reflected itself in the Republican plank on foreign policy—its criticism of what was or was not done in the Pacific.

The public only can speculate upon the circumstances that led to Gen. MacArthur's decision. It is no secret that he and Gen. Eisenhower do not see eye to eye on American strategy in the Far East, or upon the relation of the Orient and Europe to the policy which this country should pursue. When it came to the final decision in selecting a party nominee, Gen. Eisenhower was triumphant. When it came to the drafting of the platform, the least to be said is that the views expressed so frequently by Gen. MacArthur, and on the civilian side by ex-President Herbert Hoover received some recognition. There can be no question, however, but that MacArthur does speak for a minority element within his party.

Now, it can be said that in his announced intention to sit on his hands throughout this exciting contest, MacArthur is sulking. He could not have his way so he will not have any of it. Generally people do not like that attitude.

Both in Republican and Democratic ranks

Throwing The Switch

The city of Lincoln has paid through the nose for an attitude within its city government difficult to understand.

A few years ago, the municipal light plant, under the direction of City Engineer Dave Erickson, started out on a program of expansion, seemingly directed against the Consumer's Public Power district, serving about 80 per cent of the electric light customers of the city of Lincoln. Consumers was publicly owned and operated, a part of the state's system so far as the city of Lincoln was concerned, and a very important part. Where there had been peace and tranquillity for years between a public agency and a private company, strife arose.

It meant stringing duplicate poles and wires along streets and down alleys at a cost of thousands of dollars. When that expansion program got under way the City Hall proclaimed proudly that it had a surplus of $750,000 in light department funds. Between blowing in more than $100,000 for a transformer, pouring out a lot of dough for duplicate lines and poles, and replacing an obsolete turbine at the city plant, that "surplus" disappeared like a snowball in July.

Now the battle is on again—a battle this time between the Nebraska Grid system and the Lincoln city government. The contract which the

Honor Enough For All

It never pays to sell America short. In the closing hours of the Olympics at Helsinki the cream of American youth in the field of athletics came through gloriously.

Once again the United States cinched its hold on the Olympic crown. Its representatives in the Olympic games not only grabbed the bulk of the glory in the principal contests but finally edged out the chief competitor, Russia, which had piled up a massive lead in one branch of athletics.

There was one development, however, which is a matter of concern. There is a splendid tra-

Beg Pardon

We crawled out on a limb last week and properly, promptly, the "old man" of the Clay County News lowered the boom. "The Lincoln Star," he writes, "usually well-edited, erred Thursday when it declared the state made the smallest charge against the taxpayer." The county of Clay assesses less for county tax than for the state. It could well use more money, but the state law limits the levy."

That is not sunburn if you're looking this way. It is a red face. The News is right. The limitation to which it refers applies not only to Clay County but to several others. Generally, however, the most painful tax bite comes from political sub-divisions on the local level.

Lo, A Flying Canopy

Flying saucer reports continue to come in, despite persistent denials by the Air Force, scientists and strategists who say the things don't exist. But in Pittsburgh, possibly as a result of the newspaper headlines, a painter thought he saw—all things—a flying canopy.

While painting a house, Frank King saw a two-engine plane flying overhead. He looked up in time to see a canopy zoom out of the plane and head for earth. King yelled a warning to his brother, who scooted down a ladder just as the 15-pound canopy crashed through a tree and landed near some children.

Airport officials said the canopy had been ripped off the plane by a gust of wind. To Painter King, however, the incident had special significance. "I've been reading so much about flying saucers," he said "I thought one was dropping in my lap."

From flying saucers to a flying canopy is a big jump, but in these times of sights in the skies anything seems possible.

developments of historic character are taking place with ruthless rapidity. Gen. Eisenhowe already had crossed one bridge in replacing Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson with Michigan's Arthur Summerfield, relative newcomer to the national scene. Back of that was the terse announcement from the Republican candidate that there had to be a boss, and he (Eisenhower) would be the boss of the Republican campaign. Gov. Stevenson in a lesser sense was exactly in the same spot. He faced the necessity of selecting a new party chairman or retaining the man who has filled that post. It appeared, although definite announcement had not been made, that there would be a new Democratic national chairman. That is all a part of protocol. The choice of a party chairman rests with the party's standard-bearer. It is an unwritten law that the man chosen as the party's candidate has the privilege of selecting the chairman of the national organization.

There is no reason to doubt that anything but the most cordial relations existed between the Democratic nominee and the Democratic national chairman, Frank McKinney. But Mr. Stevenson's decision to move national headquarters from Washington, the political nerve center of the nation, to Springfield is without precedent, and can be interpreted only to mean that the Democratic nominee intends to keep the very closest grip upon the conduct of his campaign for the presidency.

Public reaction is anybody's guess. It is too early to undertake any appraisal of the significance of these developments which have been taking place in the closing hours of July and the opening hours of August. Clearly, both men have their own ideas about the conduct of their campaigns. The early moves contain a promise of new approaches in campaign methods along with new faces in the person of the nominees.

city has with the Nebraska Public Power System for the wholesale purchase of electric energy is up and the Nebraska Grid is asking a higher wholesale rate, which is easily understandable in the increased cost of materials and labor. The City Hall itself has been up against higher costs in the last two years because part of the increased revenue voted for city government has been utilized to raise the salaries and wages of city employees. Does the City Hall figure that the Nebraska Grid is exempt from exactly the same problems of rising costs of operation that the city itself has faced?

The Mayor and the City Engineer reveal that there is a possibility that the Nebraska Public Power System will pull the switch, cutting off approximately 40 per cent of the power upon which this community depends. We do not think this is likely to take place. But if it does, then the Mayor and his City Engineer have nobody to blame but themselves. They have been kicking that contract around for months, sitting on it most of the time, with their hands folded.

If it is Mr. Erickson's ambition to build a great utility domain which he will head, that is understandable. He should not ask the people of this community to go into another cat and dog fight with another public power agency in order to fulfill his ambitions.

Congressmen Are Off On Air Junkets Again

WASHINGTON—A new rash of congressmen wrangling free airplane transportation to various parts of the world has started now.

In fact some of it started even before Congress left for home. Several flights are justified, but others have the appearance of junkets, especially when wives and children are taken along.

One trip with all the earmarks of the latter was arranged by Congressman Harold Cooley of North Carolina, who sent his sister, Mabel Downey, to Europe with free air transportation to study hoof-and-mouth disease for the House Agriculture Committee, of which Cooley is chairman and his sister is clerk.

The hoof-and-mouth disease in which the United States is chiefly interested is in Argentina and Mexico, and while it exists in Europe, there is no meat imported from Europe to the United States. Why it was necessary for Cooley's sister to go to Europe remains something of a mystery.

'Shakedownism' Shows In Utah

Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, one of the nation's most vigorous critics of "creeping socialism" is letting his GOP associates get away with some creeping "shakedownism."

Some of his supporters have worked out a new wrinkle for raising money—by putting the bite on liquor companies which do business with the state of Utah.

In Utah, liquor is purchased and sold through the state liquor commission, and one firm doing business with Utah, the Continental Distilling Corp. of Philadelphia, got a letter from the Utah Statesman, demanding in rather peremptory terms that it advertise.

The Utah Statesman, a weekly paper, is a Republican mouthpiece, and in the letter demanding liquor advertising, its publisher significantly states: "We adhere very closely to the philosophy of the state administration. We, at least, have their unofficial blessing."

The letter to the Continental Distilling Corp., signed by Editor and Publisher Rue L. Clegg, also states:

"We are enclosing herewith our last week's issue of the Utah Statesman, together with a copy of a letter from Terry McGowan, chairman of the Utah Liquor Commission, having reference to the article on page 5 in which we praise the commissioners for their efficient and economical operation of that department.

"We shall be most grateful to obtain your advertising and receive it direct (that is, after clearing it with the Liquor Commission.)

(Copyright, 1952, by Bell Syndicate)

Congressman Cooley also has requested the Air Force to supply a special plane to take a large group of congressmen and senators to the Inter-Parliamentary Union at Berne, Switzerland, on Aug. 28.

This trip appears to be justified since the Inter-Parliamentary Union is an important gathering for world co-operation. Cooley insisted, however, that the Air Force supply a Constellation which costs $88 an hour for gas and oil alone, not including the salaries of the crew or the wear and tear on the plane.

Also Congressman John Wood of Georgia, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, flew to Europe with his wife in an Air Force plane on April 19, returning May 4.

Sen. Alexander Wiley and wife also flew to Europe on their honeymoon in an Air Force plane, leaving May 16, returning June 1, while Congressman Walter Nordland and wife left for Europe July 5.

TV LICENSE PLUMS

Some choice television licenses have been handed out by the Federal Communications Commission lately, and at least three have gone to good friends of the administration.

In another case, Gov. Stevenson is among those applying for license in Springfield, Ill.

If politics is involved in this one, however, it's intra-party politics, for another top Illinois Democrat, Edward J. Barrett, the secretary of state, is opposing Stevenson and his group. Barrett, who may replace Stevenson as governor, has applied for a competing TV license.

Other friends of the administration who have been favored with the extremely hard-to-get TV licenses are:

—Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, wife of the senator from Texas, who got a TV station at Austin.

—Ed Crane and Bing Crosby, who got a TV station in Spokane, Wash. Crane is close to Ed Johnson of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee which rules on FCC matters.

—Roger Putnam, the economic stabilizer, who got a station in Springfield, Mass.

However, the New England paper which probably has thrown more invertebrate in the President's direction than any other, the New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times, also was handed a precious new TV license last month. Another New England newspaper vigorously against the administration, the Holyoke Transcript, was also rewarded with a TV license.

Dad Shantz Let His Boys Make Own Decisions

MR. AND MRS. WILMER SHANTZ AND SON BILLY

...proud of Billy and they hope to see Bobby win his 20th ...

Shantz said that he was well impressed with the city.

Being a former baseball star himself, Mr. Shantz said he believed the Western League was one of the finest minor leagues in the country. But after watching the Lincoln A's play for the past week, he said that it is hard to realize that they are a cellar team.

"They have a bunch of great guys and deserve to be much higher," Mrs. Shantz said.

Since it is rare to find a couple of brothers playing in organized baseball, Mr. Shantz was questioned as to whether he had anything to do with their playing pro ball.

He replied that he had encouraged the boys but left it up to them to make their own decisions.

"When I was their age," he commented, "I had a chance to enter the pro ranks but my father turned thumbs down on the idea. So when Bill and Bob were approached by big league scouts I told them they would never know what they could do until they tried it."

They still weren't convinced, he said, and went right on with their jobs.

"Then one day I came home from work," he continued, "and they told me that Scout Harry O'Donnell had signed them to a Philadelphia Athletics contract and that they were being sent to Lincoln."

That, in a nutshell, is how

Shantz brothers got their start in pro ball, and how a little encouragement on the part of their father has paid off.

Girl In A Corn Field

LINCOLN, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I would like to commend Mr. John Swanson for his excellent and touching story on the little girl who wandered off into a corn field (The Star, Friday, Aug. 1).

It is this kind of story, when written as admirably as Mr. Swanson did this one, which makes The Star a morning brightener. I am certain many other readers enjoyed it as much as I did.

Social Security

Ridgewood, N. Y.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Back in 1935 the smart boys of that era whom the majority of the people of the United States elected to Congress gave to the people a social security bill. It was something we did not ask for, and we were not given the opportunity to vote for or against.

In my opinion, the best way to analyze and improve this social security bill would be for the people who are interested to get together in their respective communities and form social security units or social security conference clubs. Then they could discuss any improvements and changes that should be made to this bill.

They could get a copy of the bill from the Social Security Board in their city or state. Guest speakers should be invited to talk. In this way the public could form its own opinions as to what changes should be made for the benefit of the people.

One change I would suggest for this bill is reduction of the age limit to 60 years. In addition, I suggest putting all governmental systems, whether city, state or national, involving taxpayers' money, under this social security act.

We millions of people bound together by this social security plan can be the most powerful pressure group in the country. We should pool our brains and make something real good out of it.

Any plans for development of this area should include provisions for handling drought problems. It is all very well to talk about handling raindrops and

Sunday Afternoon Ceremony

MRS. CHARLES PAUL CURTISS

The marriage of Miss Joan Elene Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller of Geneva, to Charles Paul Curtiss, son of Mrs. Paul Curtiss, also of Geneva, was solemnized late Sunday afternoon, August 3, at the First Methodist Church in Geneva. Lighted white candles and fan-shaped arrangements of pale gold gladioli were placed against a screen of woodwardia and smilax to decorate the chancel, and the pews the length of the processional aisle were marked with professional candles caught with white satin and sprays of smilax.

Dr. F. E. Pfoutz read the lines of the 4 o'clock ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Miss Ruth Lemke of Walton, organist. Miss Lemke also accompanied Miss Margaret Hrubesky of Geneva, who sang, "I Love Thee," and "Because I Love Thee."

Miss Barbara Shields of Falls City was the maid of honor and bride's only attendant. She layers of white Swiss organdy over pale yellow taffeta fashioned her waltz-length gown, and she carried a cascade of yellow daisies with a chignon clusters of the flowers in her hair.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white nylon tulle and lace over satin. Seed pearls patterned the floral motif of the lace to frame the drop-shoulder yoke of illusion, and long sleeves ending in bridal points over the hands completed the molded lace bodice. The wide skirt of lace extended into a double frill of tulle beneath which deep flounces of the tulle tapered into a cathedral train. Lace embroidered with seed pearls fashioned the small cap which held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Fleu d'Armen, stephanotis and yellow rosebuds.

John Curtiss of Lincoln, served Mr. Curtiss as best man, and the ushers were Don Miller of Geneva, Denny Schneider of Lincoln, Robert Westfall, Nebraska City, and Frank Wells of Auburn.

A reception for two hundred fifty guests was held at the church, after which the couple left for a western trip. Mrs. Curtiss wore a silk shantung suit in the powder blue shade with white accessories for traveling.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Pi Beta Phi, Mr. Curtiss attends the University of Nebraska college of medicine at Omaha, where the couple will reside. He has served as president of Sigma Chi, and is a member of Theta Nu and Gamma Lambda.

There's Always Fun

DAY IN AND day out Lincoln seems to be a pretty gay spot—not riotous activity by any means, but certainly there are enough pleasant hours in every day to avoid any semblance of dullness—

TAKES THE current week, for instance — On the surface it looked a bit drab, but we found that a little spade work turned up considerable news that was interesting — Discovered that the Deppens—Dr. and Mrs. E. N., and their daughters, Jane and Kay, left Saturday evening for Mexico where they plan to spend the next month—

AND MEXICO bound on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Luff and their family, who plan to be away three weeks.

THIS IS the week-end that Mr. and Mrs. John Groth and their son, Jay, returned home from a two weeks stay at Cass Lake, Minn.—We haven't time to hear the fish stories as yet—

BACK IN TOWN again are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey who returned a day or so ago from the Broadmoor hotel, Colorado Springs, where they had a brief holiday—While at the Broadmoor, Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey had a surprise visit from their son Bob who planned in from Louisiana, where he is stationed with the National Air Guard, for a very short stay—

INCLUDED in our chapter on homecomers are the three Cowles—Dr. and Mrs. Willard B., and their daughter, Nancy, who have been spending the summer in Connecticut—Dr. and Mrs. Cowles and their daughter are due home within the next two weeks.

EXTRA - SPECIAL news this morning has to do with Miss Sally Herminghaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Herminghaus, who was graduated in June from Bryn Mawr—Miss Herminghaus left on Friday for New York City where she has accepted a position with the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency—

WHEN THE engagement of Miss Peggy Louisa Walter to Theodore Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lehman of Lincoln, was announced a few weeks ago the wedding had been planned for the autumn—but the marriage of Miss Walter to Mr. Lehman will be solemnized next Friday afternoon at the Hotel Fontelle in Omaha. Only the immediate members of the family will attend the ceremony.

For her maid of honor and only attendant Miss Walter has chosen Mr. Lehman's sister, Miss Sara Lehman. Max Lehman will serve his son as best man.

BRIDES-TO-BE chatter brings to mind Miss Cecelia Brady whose marriage to Robert H. Cathier will take place on September 6. Miss Brady will have Miss Mary Maguire as her maid of honor, and Mr. Cathier's niece, Carrie Cathier, will be the flower girl.

COMPLIMENTING Miss Brady next week-end will be Mrs. Howard Cathier and Mrs. Meyer Cathier of Salina, Kan., who have planned a luncheon for Saturday at Hotel Corn-

Introducing—

Mrs. Theodore Meyer And Greg

Today's enthusiastic young couple, the Meyers, are new residents at 3323 Starr Street, where Mr. Meyer has come from Denver, Colo., with his family to continue his career as an architectural designer. Their new home is a beautiful combination of soft color and contemporary design, which they hope to augment by making all their new furniture! Since modern pieces are so expensive for their simplicity, the Meyers are utilizing a friend's set of power tools and "the works" for medium-stain mahogany. Although they are justifiably proud of their distinct taste, Mrs. Meyer admits that they had a bit of trouble renting out their stark realistic house in Denver, with its charcoal grey walls!

Naturally, Mr. Meyer is more at home at his work than most of us, and can scarcely wait until they can make their handsome house plans materialize by doing lots of the construction and decoration themselves. Both are natives of Elmhurst, Ill. (just outside of Chicago) where Mr. Meyer attended Chicago Tech, but he is also an alumnus of Iowa State college. He is a member of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity. As soon as his sparkling and peppy wife turns her back, Mr. Meyer will undoubtedly run out to buy the television set they both want so much! Aside from his talents, Mr. Meyer loves reading and photography, is an adept golfer. Even more than her husband, Mrs. Meyer adores camping trips, and who would not, in the scenic mountains of Colorado! Before Greg was born, they used to pack up the car and head for the most remote sections, a la sleeping bag and canned heat. She is just beginning with archery and they hope sometime to enter the bow-and-arrow hunting season for which Denver is renowned. She has never tried, but somehow feels the long arm of the golfing "profession" reaching out at her. When Greg, who is a handsome, one and a half year old, is of nursery age, Mrs. Meyer hopes to get the college education for which she did not have time earlier! She sews a great deal... during the time she is not busily devouring the decorating, interior and architectural magazines!

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

(Distributed by International News Service) what they did to that poor old Harriman kid. All he has left is a bank, a railroad and a steamship line.

Nobody wanted to make the Texans too mad. Things were tough enough without starting a square dance of stolen delegates.

Those lads have more trouble than an old lady with her change purse.

That goes for both the Democrats and the Republicans. And especially for those big-hatted Texans. Those fellows claim to be outdoors men. They wear hats like bungalow roofs.

It was one big happy family. And no family is happier than when the second cousins go home.

At least now we know how the country operates. With local aesthetics.

Georgia and Louisiana staged hassles longer than a horse's dream. You know what happened to Virginia over parking chewing gum under tables and other civil rights.

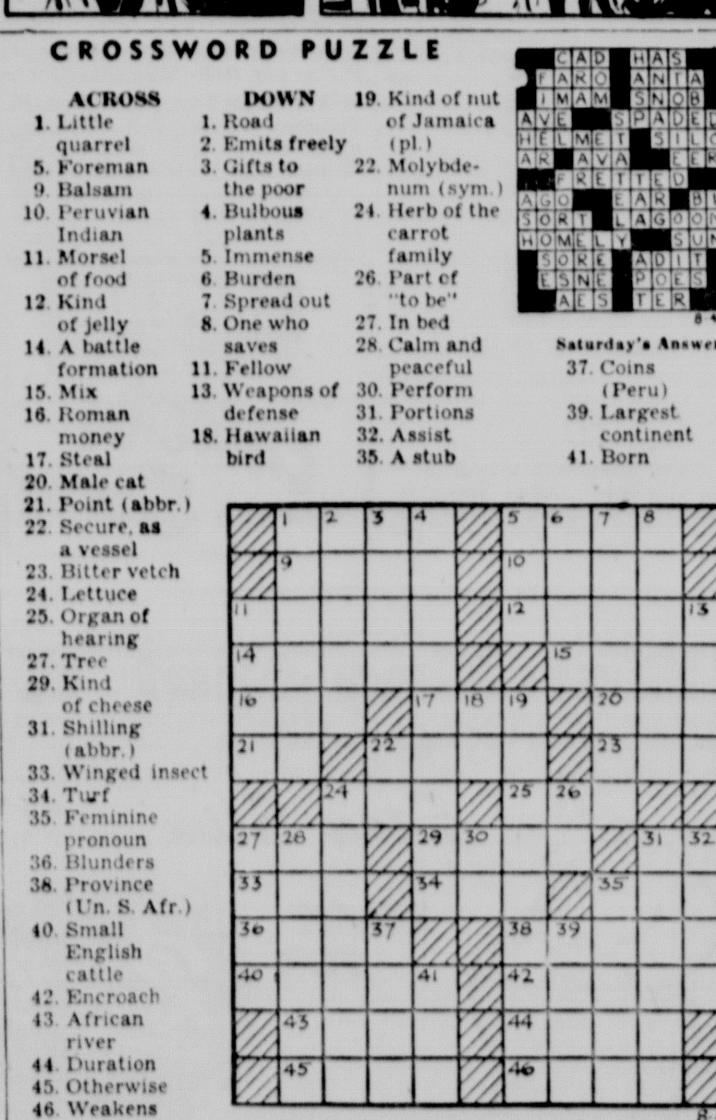

It split the Democratic convention up the back like a two-tailed fish.

'52 Olympics Close; U.S. Bests Russia

Colorful Show Marks End Of Helsinki Games

HELSINKI, (AP) — The 1952 Olympic games, the biggest ever held, ended Sunday in brilliant sunshine with the United States the clearcut winner over Russia in the unofficial team battle and Pierre D'Orsiola of France crowned as champion in the final equestrian event.

Great Britain won its only first place of the games by taking the "Prix De Nations" team title—a severe test of horsemanship over high barriers in the main stadium before 65,000—with Chile second and the United States third.

This brought the total American points to 614 against 553½ for Russia. Tass, the official Russian news agency, said the Soviets did not propose to make any team tabulations of their own.

The flags of the 70 nations that sent 5,780 athletes to Helsinki appeared in a final parade, and the Olympic torch was extinguished as the call was sounded for the youth of the world to re-assemble in Melbourne, Australia, in 1956.

For the last day of the games, 52 crack riders from 20 nations brought their hazardous contest into the big stadium. Twice each man rode the course with its 13 barriers, with "bad points" scored for each fault.

On the basis of 10-5-4-3-2-1 points wherever a gold medal is awarded, the leading nations were: United States 614, Russia 533½, Hungary 308, Sweden 267, Germany 171, Finland 162½, Italy 158½, France 156 ½, Czechoslovakia 113½, and Great Britain 106.

The most impressive showing by the United States came in men's track and field, the central sport of the games. The United States won 14 out of 24 first places, the most since the program of the games was put in its present form.

The Olympic flame was snuffed out at 7:28 p.m., signifying the official closing of the games.

Wayne Ward 1st At Micro Races

By WAYNE PANTER

Wayne Ward of Ralston and Clyde Clymer of Lincoln, whose cars are the perennial battlers for top money in the micro-midget racing circuit, fought it out again here Sunday with Ward again coming out in command.

Ward pushed his orange Alton Special to first places in the trophy dash, third heat race and the 20-lap feature, with Clymer gaining seconds in the same heat race and the feature and a third in the trophy dash.

Clymer walked off with a first in the time trials, which undoubtedly hampered him later in the handicap-start races. During the heat race scramble, Clymer passed Ward three times but each time was unable to get far enough ahead to pull into the pole position.

Wayne Harm of Omaha escaped with only a cut finger when his car figured in a spectacular accident at the start of the feature. Bearing down on the first turn, the field jammed, with Harm's car flipping high in the air, clearing the hug rail and coming to rest upside down.

Thanks

for... 50 years of business from the good people of Lincoln and Nebraska. Our growth would have been impossible without the support of our customers.

for... helping us reach our goal of $50,000,000 deposits on our 50th Anniversary. Over two years ago, when our deposits were less than $36,000,000, we set $50,000,000 as our goal and we have more than reached it, thanks to our employees, stockholders and customers.
